

Mark Kotheimer

CHIEF INFORMATION SECURITY OFFICER

Chicago

312.845.3911

kotheime@chapman.com

Mark Kotheimer is Chapman's Chief Information Security Officer. Mark develops, implements, and maintains information security programs and security monitoring protocols for the firm. Mark also manages information security risk management assessments and monitors the firm's compliance with information security regulations and best practices, among other duties and firm initiatives in connection with information security. Prior to joining Chapman, Mark served as the Director of Information Security for a large health care organization and spent 15 years as the Director of Information Technology for a Chicago-based community bank.

Education

Columbia College Chicago

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign