Patrick Quill is a partner in Chapman's Asset Securitization Department. His practice is focused on structured finance and derivative products. Patrick's experience includes the representation of financial institutions in their capacity as issuers, underwriters, investment managers, and derivative counterparties in connection with cash and synthetic CLOs, structured note programs, and credit-linked securities. He regularly structures and represents users of credit, equity, and interest rate derivatives in monetization and synthetic risk transfer transactions.

Patrick's experience encompasses virtually all of the CLO market, including broadly syndicated transactions, middle market transactions, emerging market transactions, and balance sheet CLOs (including related analyses of bankruptcy true sale and non-consolidation issues).

His experience also includes structured closed-end fund financings and asset-backed financing transactions, including conduit loans, term financings, and repurchase facilities for asset classes such as royalty payment streams (pharmaceutical and franchise), whole business securitizations, structured settlements, commercial mortgage loans, aircraft leases, and timeshare receivables. Additionally, he regularly counsels financial institutions on the impact of Dodd-Frank and other financial crisis regulatory initiatives.

Patrick was selected to the Irish Legal 100 for 2012 – 2019, a list of the 100 most accomplished and distinguished lawyers of Irish descent from across the US. He has also been recommended in the Legal 500 US for structured finance.
