

Shea Smock

PRACTICE INNOVATIONS ANALYST

Chicago

312.827.4146

sheasmoc@chapman.com

Shea Smock is a practice innovations analyst on Chapman's Practice Innovations team. She is responsible for managing legal technology and process improvement projects including collaboration, workflow, and artificial intelligence systems at Chapman.

Shea completed the Tech Lawyer Accelerator program at the University of Colorado Law School, an innovative program designed to train future lawyers on the business principles and operational tools that can improve the delivery of legal services. During law school, Shea also worked at Chapman as a Practice Innovations Intern.

Education

Indiana University Maurer School of Law, J.D., 2018

Florida State University, Ph.D., Mass Communications/Media Studies, 2014

Florida State University, M.A., Communications/Media Studies, 2011

Butler University, B.A., Broadcast Journalism and Political Science, 2009