COUNSEL TO THE FUNDING FOUNDATION IN THE FINANCING OF A MOBILE HEALTH CLINIC TO SUPPORT UNDERSERVED COMMUNITIES IN OHIO.

Chapman served as counsel to the Wilson Sheehan Foundation in an agreement with the Rocking Horse Children's Health Center and Second Harvest Food Bank to finance the Health Bus, a state-of-the-art mobile clinic serving Springfield, Ohio, and surrounding areas. With two exam rooms and refrigeration for vaccines and other medication, the bus will accompany the Second Harvest Food Bank to their distribution sites every week, bringing health care directly to people in need. Chapman partner Catherine Rossouw led the deal team with associate Carson Klarck.
