

Insights

Nancy Burke and David Cholst named ACBC Fellows

Recognition
September 24, 2013

Chapman Partners Nancy Burke and David Cholst were inducted into the American College of Bond Counsel at the annual dinner. ACBC is a professional organization that recognizes attorneys who have established outstanding reputations among their peers in terms of skill, experience, and high standards of professional and ethical conduct in the practice of bond law. Members of the ACBC are selected by their peers, and membership is extremely limited. Admission as a member of the College - or a "fellow" - is a recognition of the lawyer's accomplishments and knowledge in the field of bond law. Chapman Partners Andrea Bacon, and Jim Luebchow are also members of the College. Click here to learn more about ACBC.