Chapman Joins Law Firm Antiracism Alliance

News
June 2020

Racism and discrimination have no place in our society. Chapman is committed to expanding our diversity and inclusion initiatives, broadening the reach of our pro bono work, and investing further in community and legal organizations that are advancing equality and inclusion and combatting systemic racism. We are proud to announce that Chapman has joined the new Law Firm Antiracism Alliance (LFAA) formed to work on pro bono projects and regulatory advocacy initiatives that seek to correct injustices in our legal system and to promote racial equality in the law and government institutions. We believe that working with other law firms through LFAA can enable us to do more to effect real and lasting change. Read the LFAA Charter.
