Today, Hillary Phelps, a partner in Chapman's National Public and Health & Education Finance Department, was named a member of the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board's (MSRB) Market Transparency Advisory Group, which will advise the MSRB Board of Directors on strategic initiatives to modernize and enhance the free Electronic Municipal Market Access (EMMA®) website and related systems in support of market transparency. The group includes 13 market professionals representing a broad and diverse cross-section of the industry that will help identify objectives for the modernization of the MSRB's systems and provide input on potential data and technology tools for the market.
