

Insights

Basel Committee Releases Final Liquidity Coverage Ratio Disclosure Standards

Regulatory Updates - SFI
January 13, 2014

On January 12, 2014, the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision issued final requirements for banks' disclosures relating to the liquidity coverage ratio. Under the final requirements, internationally active banks will be required to publish their LCR according to a common template. National authorities will give effect to the disclosure requirements beginning in reporting periods after January 1, 2015. For a copy of the final LCR disclosure standards, please click here.